

ONE WORKFORCE DIVERSE STRENGTHS

The Canadian Association for Supported Employment (CASE) is a national association for the supported employment sector.

In collaboration with employment service providers, employers and community allies, our mission is to advance the inclusion of persons experiencing disability in the Canadian workforce. We are committed to sharing evidence-based and emerging practices and to ongoing exploration of the intersection of disability with other identities. CASE offers access to research, resources, certificate programs and courses and to ongoing opportunities to participate in national initiatives, networking and awareness campaigns.

CASE OFFERINGS

LEARNING AND DEVELOPMENT

CASE offers facilitated certificate programs for employment practitioners to upskill and stay current on emerging practices, as well as brief, asynchronous (on your own time) courses for employers and employment practitioners.

RESEARCH

CASE collaborates with diverse stakeholders to conduct and share research about the employment journeys of persons experiencing disability, including those with intersectional identities.

MENTORING MODEL

The CASE MentorAbility Canada initiative convenes a network of employment service providers and employers who leverage mentorships, networking and learning events, research and social media to promote inclusive workplaces.

INNOVATION

The CASE Innovation Lab funds, supports, pilots and shares innovative solutions from partners across Canada to remove barriers to employment for persons experiencing disability.

CASE CAMPAIGNS AND EVENTS

DISABILITY EMPLOYMENT AWARENESS MONTH (DEAM)

Every October, DEAM activities engage employers, job seekers experiencing disability, service providers and the public to promote the benefits of inclusive hiring.

ANNUAL CASE CONFERENCE

Supported employment professionals and employers from across Canada gather at the CASE Conference to share emerging practices and to highlight innovative employment solutions.

BECOME A CASE MEMBER TODAY

CASE members are part of an active, national network of people and organizations working towards a more diverse and inclusive labour market. Members receive discounts on conferences and training, increased visibility to employers, a listing in our national directory and access to member-only resources and services.

STAY CONNECTED WITH CASE

Subscribe to our free newsletter.

Find us on social media

Scan the QRCode to visit the CASE website for more resources.

